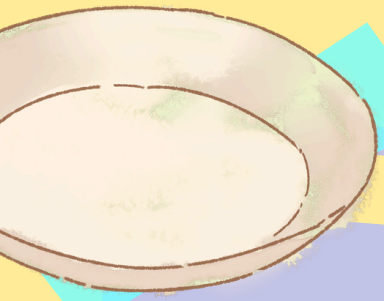
Make a sun bear mask

Did you know that sun bears are the smallest bears in the world? They live in the tropical forests of Southeast Asia and are famous for the golden patch of fur on their chest that looks a bit like a rising sun.

Now you can become a sun bear with this easy mask craft!



You will need:

- A paper plate
- Brown paint, crayons, or colouring pencils
- Black paper
- Yellow or orange paper
- Scissors
- Glue
- Elastic string

How to make your sun bear mask

1. Colour the back of your paper plate brown
2. Cut two eye holes so you can see through your mask - ask an adult to help!
3. Cut out: two round ears, a black nose, and a mouth shape from the black paper and add them to your mask
4. Sun bears have a special golden chest marking. Cut out a sun-shaped patch from your yellow or orange paper and glue it to the bottom of the mask as a decoration
5. Attach elastic string to each side and try on your new sun bear disguise!
